

Julian goes to a fortune teller. Does she know his future? Will he be lucky? Will he be rich? Will he meet a nice girl?

The fortune teller looks into a crystal ball. Then she looks at Julian. She says: "You will be rich because you will find a treasure. But you will find the treasure only if you do exactly what I tell you. Is that what you want?"

Of course, Julian wants to be rich. He nods.

"Next Saturday is the full moon. Then you go to the cemetery at midnight. Take a shovel with you. Do you know where the three old oak trees are? There you dig a hole in the ground. You must dig two meters deep until you find the treasure. But be careful! If you think about bratwurst with sauerkraut while digging, you won't find the treasure!"

On Saturday, the weather is clear. Late in the evening, Julian goes to the cemetery with a shovel. The full moon shines brightly. Julian finds the three old oak trees. He begins to dig.

Suddenly he throws the shovel to the ground and walks away. He grumbles:

"Damn! All my life I've never thought about bratwurst with sauerkraut. And now I just can't get it out of my head!"

What is or can be in this word or thing?

week	gold	Saturday	silver	milky way
treasure	ink	water	money	sunshine
crystal ball	future	past	present	grammar
bratwurst	iron	meat	wood	grass
head	thoughts	ice	snow	moonlight
cemetery	salt	flowers	pepper	salad
dinner	sauerkraut	wool	oak trees	shovels
school	nice girls	old cars	whisky	cannons

Write in the negative:

- He goes to a fortune teller. ... He doesn't go to a fortune teller.
- You'll find a treasure.
- Will you be lucky?
- The weather is clear.
- We want to be rich.
- Does she know his future?
- Julian can find the treasure.
- You must dig two meters deep. (need)
- Do the same.
- Be there at midnight.