Hugo Sees the Doctor

Hugo doesn't feel well.
He's got a temperature.
He's got a headache too
There are red spots all over his face.

He goes to the doctor.
The doctor is enjoying his coffee break.

"Doctor, doctor!" Hugo shouts.
"Look at those ugly spots in my face.
Help me!"

"Let's have a look at your tongue," the doctor says.

He asks Hugo to open his mouth.
"Oh dear, you are ill", the doctor says,
"I think you've got the measles."

The doctor is coming very close to Hugo. Too close.

The bacteria go from Hugo's face to the doctor's.

Now the doctor feels ill. His face is full of red spots.

"Thank you and good bye", Hugo says and goes home happily.

He has no more spots on his face.
