

It's Friday afternoon. Hugo and Lucy are working in the garden. They earn their pocket money. Hugo wants to buy a scooter. He will have saved enough money in three months. Lucy wants a smart dress.

Hugo is digging up the neighbour's garden bed. Hard work!
Lucy is working with the rake. She loves raking up leaves.
Hugo's shovel hits a stone. He kneels down.
No, this is not a stone. It's an old vase.
How old could it be?
Let's get rid of that rubbish!
Hugo throws the vase into the pile of leaves.
Now Lucy finds the vase. She is stunned.
Where did this antique piece come from?
Lucy packs the vase into her rucksack. She gets on her bike. She hurries into town. She goes to an antique dealer. The dealer buys the vase. He gives Lucy a lot of money. Lucy goes shopping.

Lucy buys an elegant dress, lots of sweets, jewellery and a scooter. She goes to the hairdresser. Then she returns. Hugo is amazed when he sees Lucy. "I'll let you ride my new scooter one day," promises Lucy.

MAKE THE SENTENCES NEGATIVE:

- Hugo, throw the vase away! ...Hugo, don't throw the vase away!
- Lucy and Hugo work in the garden.
- He will have saved enough money.
- She wants to buy jewellery.
- Lucy is working with the rake.
- Lucy finds the vase.
- They are working in the garden.
- I'll let you ride my scooter.
- She goes to the hairdresser.
- Why do you give her the money?
- The vase is very old.
- Can you see the vase?
- Hugo and Lucy are very amazed.